COUNCILMEMBER DJOU CALLS LUNALILO HOME ROAD PROJECT A WASTE OF TAXPAYERS' MONEY

Councilmember Charles Djou today criticized Mayor Harris' proposal to build a $1.5 million dollar median along Lunalilo Home Road as a waste of taxpayers' money. The project is scheduled to begin tomorrow, September 8, and many residents are still worried that the project will create a bigger traffic problem than it will solve.

"The city should focus on our core functions, such as building the new Hawaii Kai police station, instead of projects such as this. This project is another example of the Mayor's misplaced priorities."

"This project will be a traffic nightmare for the residents of Hawaii Kai. But more importantly, it's a waste of taxpayers' money" stated Councilmember Djou. "It makes no sense that the Administration is willing to proceed with this project that lacks the support of any elected official from Hawaii Kai, the Neighborhood Board or the community."
